Love Is A Verb - New Edition

A new edition of "Love Is A Verb" brings the same featureless faces and their penetrating gazes into new poses, new gestures, new ways of relating. The bond with the Other, along with the reflections, doubts and hesitations that define human nature, becomes once again tangible and real.

Around each body, perfectly imperfect and almost alive, a vibrant aura takes shape: familiar, yet renewed.

Burnt Carpets

"Burnt Carpets" brings fire back as both symbol and instrument.
A fundamental element in the rites of peoples and religions across the world, fire gives shape once again to a series of phrases drawn from influential Western leaders. Burned into the surface, words become traces, scars and memories: familiar in their origin, yet renewed through new forms and meanings.

The background of the entire image is a dense, fine-grained texture in a vibrant pink color, resembling a plush fabric or a high-quality paper with a tactile quality. The texture is uniform across the entire frame, with subtle variations in light and shadow that give it a three-dimensional appearance.
